WRITING ASSESSMENT

Dear Reader,

The writer listed above would like you to critique his or her writing to identify problems that need to be corrected.

Please ignore spelling and punctuation mistakes. You're only looking for passages where you don't understand a point or where a transition between thoughts feels awkward or vague. Please point out anything that needs more (or better) explanation.

You can write your comments on the manuscript itself or on these pages. Regardless of which option you choose, please write down the pages numbers so the writer can quickly find the areas for which you've made comments.
